

Assistant Professor in Curriculum and Instruction: Bilingual Studies with an emphasis in literacy, mathematics, or science (Tenure track)

SCHOOL: Baylor's School of Education, which will celebrate its 100th anniversary in 2019, ranks among the nation's top 20 education schools located at private universities. With 50 full-time faculty members, the school's growing research portfolio complements its long-standing commitment to excellence in teaching and student mentoring.

The school boasts an array of excellent academic offerings in three academic departments—Curriculum and Instruction, Educational Leadership and Educational Psychology. Baylor's undergraduate program in teacher education, enrolling 450 students, has earned the School of Education national distinction for its innovative partnerships with local schools that provide future teachers deep clinical preparation. Nearly 175 graduate students pursue advanced study and professional preparation in master's, EdS, EdD, PhD programs.

Through exciting new academic initiatives both at home and abroad and searches underway for faculty colleagues, the school has entered into a period of significant expansion and of deepened impact through the production of meaningful, high-quality research and the preparation of outstanding leaders, teachers and clinicians.

UNIVERSITY: Baylor University is a private Christian university and a nationally-ranked research institution, consistently listed with highest honors among The Chronicle of Higher Education's "Great Colleges to Work For." The university is recruiting new faculty with a deep commitment to excellence in teaching, research, and scholarship. Baylor seeks faculty who share in our aspiration to become a tier one research institution while strengthening our distinctive Christian mission as described in our strategic vision, Pro Futuris (<http://www.baylor.edu/profuturis>). As the world's largest Baptist University, Baylor offers over 40 doctoral programs and has almost 17,000 students from all 50 states and more than 80 countries.

POSITION: Assistant Professor in Curriculum and Instruction: Bilingual Studies with an emphasis in literacy, mathematics, or science (Tenure track)

QUALIFICATIONS: Consistent with the stated mission of the University to be a world-class institution dedicated to Christian principles and ideals the qualifications for the position include: Doctorate in Curriculum and Instruction, Bilingual Education, or related field; relevant subject matter expertise; rank appropriate record of continuing scholarship, grant writing and grant-funded research; and teaching experience in K-12 that demonstrates the ability to work collaboratively in and with socially, culturally, and economically diverse communities.

RESPONSIBILITIES: The Department of Curriculum and Instruction includes undergraduate degrees with multiple majors; master degrees with several specialization options; and doctoral degrees in a variety of fields. This faculty member will collaborate with the existing education faculty in scholarship and teaching appropriate for linguistically and culturally diverse student populations.

Specifically, this faculty member will support the development of a bilingual education program at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. He or she will maintain an active research agenda, teach bilingual education and subject specific methods courses, seek external funding to support the program, engage in work with schools, and advise/mentor students.

SALARY AND BEGINNING DATE: The salary will be commensurate with qualifications and professional experience. The anticipated date of appointment is August 2019.

SUBMISSION DEADLINE: Applications will be reviewed beginning October 15, 2018 until the position has been filled. Early application is advised.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: A complete application includes a letter of application; curriculum vitae; completed application form; and a copy of transcripts documenting terminal degree (original required prior to on campus interview). Candidates should arrange to have three letters of reference submitted via Interfolio (these references should be named in the candidate's cover letter). Original reference letters and official transcripts may be requested later.

Materials should be submitted electronically to: <http://apply.interfolio.com/53751>
