

Tenure Track Assistant/Associate Professor in Education Positions

The College of St. Scholastica is seeking three full time, tenure track faculty members to join a robust School of Education. Opportunities are available in Duluth and St. Paul, Minnesota. Each position requires a unique area of expertise to include special education, literacy, and foundation and methods. The School of Education provides innovative programs in a variety of formats including face to face, online and hybrid. Our faculty is committed to preparing effective and caring teachers who are knowledgeable in content, pedagogy and who demonstrate effective dispositions. The faculty member contributes to an educational and work environment that encourages knowledge of, respect for and development of skills to engage with those of other cultures or backgrounds. Candidates with strong communication skills and the ability to work collaboratively between programs and among colleagues on multiple campuses are highly sought.

Required Qualifications:

- Ed.D or Ph.D in Education or related field by August 2019
- Commitment to diversity and the preparation of teachers who can work successfully with diverse student populations
- Online teaching and/or learning experience
- Excellent communication, problem solving and interpersonal skills

Preferred Qualifications:

- Higher Education teaching experience

The College of St. Scholastica is a vibrant, growing independent private college with its main campus overlooking Lake Superior in Duluth, Minnesota and extended campuses throughout Minnesota. Since 1912, The College of St. Scholastica (CSS) has been preparing students for a life of purpose and meaningful work by emphasizing the Catholic Benedictine values upon which it was founded.

The College serves an enrollment of more than 4,000 students in undergraduate and graduate degree programs throughout six schools— nursing, arts & letters, business and technology, education, health sciences, and sciences. U.S. News & World Report consistently ranks CSS among the best colleges and universities in the region for academic excellence and Money Magazine has cited the College in the top third of all four-year colleges in the country based on graduation rates, educational quality, affordability, and alumni earnings.
